Terranea

SLEEP IN RANCHO PALOS VERDES, CA

HOT SPOT
Terranea is home to 137 fire pits.

Situated on a peninsula 30 miles southwest of L.A., this Mediterranean-inspired escape is well on its way to grande dame status, despite its tender age of 4. Adventure-types can try their (gloved) hand at falconry or embark on an ocean kayaking or stand-up paddleboarding excursion; kids can careen down the 140-foot water slide or explore Pacific tide pools; and for solace-seekers, there are photography classes and plein air painting sessions. Unveiled this spring, The Bungalows at Terranea offer total Zen immersion: Reserve one of the sprawling oceanfront abodes, and enjoy unlimited access to the 50,000-square-foot spa, a 24-hour personal concierge, and freshly brewed tea at turndown. Still stressed out? Sign up for a multiday wellness retreat, complete with a customized schedule of spa and fitness experiences. Ahhh, yeah.

While You're There

WATCH for whales from atop the 67-foot-tall Point Vicente Lighthouse. Built in 1926, the landmark is still in service and open to the public on the second Saturday of each month. vicentelight.org

STROLL the 87-acre Eden that is South Coast Botanic Garden, where you can admire 300 varieties of roses. southcoastbotanicgarden.org

TEE OFF at Terranea's par-3 course, or, if you're hankering for a full 18, head down Palos Verdes Drive to the Pete Dye-designed Trump National Golf Club. trumpnationallosangeles.com
