With residents sporting winter boots and scarves when temperatures drop below 60 degrees, Los Angeles happily embraces even the tiniest inkling of winter — even if it has to make believe. To set the seasonal stage, L.A. abounds with plenty of fireplaces and outdoor fires at restaurants and hotels to keep you “warm.” When the mood strikes to snuggle around a flame with a hot toddy or tea, here are our favorite places to channel that faux-fall feeling:

Terranea Resort

As L.A.'s go-to staycation spot, Four-Star Terranea Resort's romance factor is off the charts. Credit the beachfront location and plethora of outdoor firepits for all of the cuddling. Two places you'll especially love to hang around are the Lobby Bar, where the fire roars during the holiday season, and Nelson's, the hotel's weekend party spot. Warm yourself by the enormous outdoor pit while listening to live music. You don't want to miss the s'more-roasting fun on Fridays either.

Marina Del Rey Hotel

Knowing that breathtaking looks of various moored yachts serve as the backdrop, you can easily imagine the coziness felt sitting by a fire in a warm blanket at Marina del Rey Hotel's SALT Restaurant. The waterfront haven boasts firepits and stunning peeks of the sunset on the marina. Between photos, you can roast s'mores and sip on a seasonal hot toddy.
