Bird's-eye view of Terranea, a Destination Resort property located in California.

Terranea

The Stay: Terranea, part of the Destination Hotels & Resorts collection, is located in Rancho Palos Verdes on a 102-acre property just minutes from Los Angeles. The resort is surrounded by the Pacific Ocean on three sides offering guests grand ocean views. Amenities include three pools, eight restaurants, golf, and spa options. Room rates start at $395 per night.

The Golf: The Links at Terranea, a 9-hole, par 3 course with views of the Pacific Ocean and Catalina Island, and designed by Todd Eckenrode, offers players a multi-tiered short game practice area with chipping and putting greens, plus private and group instruction, junior player lessons, and golf clinics led by The Links' PGA professionals. The Golf Academy also offers fitness evaluations using the Titleist Performance Institute Golf Fitness Program, which gives players the same assessment and fitness training that professional golfers use.

The Spa: The 50,000-sq.-ft., oceanfront Spa at Terranea features 25 treatment rooms overlooking the panoramic seascape and Catalina Island. The spa also features an oceanfront yoga and Pilates studio, a fitness center, a full-service salon, a cafe and boutique. A private spa pool and hot tubs are set among a lush garden landscape with relaxation lounges, private cabanas and fire pits. Couples can enjoy treatments in one of three Signature Treatment Suites—Fire, Earth or Ocean—featuring such goodies as a freestanding copper soaking tub, a fireplace, an infrared sauna, and a Swiss shower.
